

Harris Technical Services Corporation

Harris Corporation is an international communications technology company serving government and commercial markets in more than 150 countries. Its four businesses provide superior solutions for mission-critical applications in government communications systems, secure tactical radios, broadcast communications and microwave communications. With headquarters in Melbourne, Florida, the company has annual sales of more than $2.5 billion and employs 12,000 men and women - including more than 5,000 engineers and scientists - who are dedicated to the development of best-in-class communications products, systems and services.

POC: Larry Robbins
8955A Drennan Road
Colorado Springs, CO, 80925
402-293-3480
lrobbi05@harris.com